Re: Entry Level Electrical Engineer
Hello hiring team:

I am writing to reply to this Entry Level Electrical Engineering that found on Glassdoor.

Although most of my expertise is tailored towards electronics, I did take courses regarding power transmission and distribution. As such I will be able to get myself up to speed in terms of skills such as power systems, load and short circuit analysis.

I am immediately available, so contact me should you interested in my service.

Yours sincerely,

Kuanghua Qiao
